A WORD ABOUT DRY AGED BEEF

All beef needs to be aged, and there are two methods of aging. Most commonly used is wet aging, where the beef is vacuum sealed and aged in its own blood. The preferred method, dry aging, involves hanging the large cuts of beef in very strict temperature and humidity controlled conditions, so don't try that at home! During this process the beef loses one percent of its weight in moisture loss for every day it is aged. Hence the variation in cost, depending on the aging time. The result, however, is worth the wait. Dry aged beef develops a highly concentrated and intense flavor, the mark of a great steak, and is only available at CUT.
